

ECC Internship

VREC London, UK

Due to our current vet successfully acquiring a European ECC residency position, applications are invited from veterinary graduates for a unique opportunity to join our ECC team who manage our out of hours service. The Internship is a one year, non-degree program in the Veterinary Referral and Emergency Centre, the newest multidisciplinary referral practice in Surrey.

There will be significant interaction with and support from the veterinary and nursing teams in Diagnostic Imaging, Medicine, Soft-Tissue and Orthopedic Surgery, Anaesthesia, Oncology, Dermatology, Neurology, Cardiology, Ophthalmology and Dentistry. Duties include the diagnosis, treatment and care of clinical cases and communicating appropriately with staff and clients. Weekend day duties will be assigned on a rotating or ad-hoc basis as required.

The successful candidate will experience a plethora of both emergency and critical care patients in this new, rapidly growing specialist referral hospital. A demonstrable interest and experience in ECC medicine would be an advantage.

The internship should help the successful candidate in preparation for a post graduate qualification in ECC or assist them in the search for an advanced specialty training such as an Emergency and Critical Care Residency.

Applicants should be eligible for membership of the RCVS and be fully registered with the RCVS prior to starting the position.

Applications with a letter of intent and CV should be made to the Veterinary Referral and Emergency Centre at bwalsh@veterinaryreferralcentre.com

Closing date for applications is July 31st, 2018
